The Riesling is also known as king of white wines. It is an area typical of the area and thrives on very poor, stony soil very well. Only there, it develops its characteristic aroma. It is very low in yield, so the quality is particularly good. The Riesling Terrassen 2016 shows a bright clear straw yellow. It has a pleasant peach fragrance and is also very elegant and not intrusive. From our experience we can say that the Riesling always takes some time in the bottle and then also in the glass until it develops its full aroma. The wine has storage potential.
